Orange County (formed 1752 from Bladen, Granville, and Johnston)

Notes:

1. Deed books from 1752 through 1781 were, for the most part, destroyed by a Loyalist during the Revolutionary War. Exceptions are: Deed Book 1, June 1755-June 1756; Deed Book 2; deeds brought in for re-recording for 1752-1781 (a fairly small percentage of the originals) as well as deeds 1782-85; deeds that were recorded in the court minutes as well, for 1752-1768 and 1793 (now in NC Archives; abstracted below by Weeks.)
2. In 1766, a John Jacob Gramer sold 100 to William Savage in Orange County. A John Grammer was in the Militia defending against the patriots during the Battle of Alamance in 1771. A John Grammer received a land grant in Tennessee for service in the Continental Line of North Carolina, enlisted in Orange County. These three mentions are the only mentions I have found of any Grammers in North Carolina.
3. Senator John and his brother William arrived in Illinois around 1811-12, the same time the Tripp family arrived there. Prior to that, the Tripps were in Georgia (1805-1811), and before that they were in Orange (now Alamance) County, North Carolina. The first known record of Nicholas Tripp in Georgia was a land purchase in 1759. Could there have been a connection between
 - Orange County 1755 and 1779 tax lists, as abstracted by Ratcliff & Register, listed above. Are there other extant tax lists? (letter 10/25/96) 1779 tax list contains John, Jacob, and William Graves in Orange County — check to make sure transcribed properly.

Dinwiddie County (formed 1752 from Prince George)

(Dinwiddie was a burned county, so most records are missing. Extant Colonial records are a few odd county books (see below) and land patents (in the office of the Register of the land Office, Richmond — Check these). For the period after the revolution but before 1800, there are also Personal Property lists (in the Virginia State Library, Richmond — checked published forms) and the Land Tax Lists (in the Office of the Auditor of Virginia, Richmond — check this), both for the years 1782-1863.. Unless otherwise stated, originals are copied in the Virginia State Library microfilm collection.)

Prince George County (formed 1703 from Charles City)

Prince George libraries: Prince George (city) Disputanta Library (804)991-2403, Hopewell's Appomattox Regional Library (804)458-6329. Hopewell is a newer city, with very little of genealogical interest prior to WWI.

(Note that most of Prince George County's records were burned during the Civil War.)

(Note that Martin's Brandon Parish was previously named Westover Parish, and perhaps prior to 1642 it may have been called Jordan's Parish)

- Pension file R 4 183, National Archives records (from a microfilm copy at the LDS), for Joseph Grammer of France.
- DAR application for Betsey Alden Mangold, #136163, 1917. This was apparently the original DAR application on William's line. Rose Mary Orr, professional genealogist of Vienna, Illinois, examined these papers in 1992 and "there isn't a shred of proof there. There may have been at one time; they say most of the early proofs have been lost."¹ This application states that William Grammer was b. 1774, probably Pennsylvania; d. 1817 [incorrect]; m. 1797 Jane, b. 1779, d. 1807 Illinois [incorrect]. It also states that William was in Logan County, Kentucky in 1800. From Rose Mary Orr, May 12, 1992: "In application of Sarah Louise Balsly states that proof was 'family papers and letters in Sarah Nimmo Zimmerman's possession.' We have no idea where they are now. I have a letter from Dr. John Ellis, enclosing a letter from Mrs. Zimmermann in 1964 where she appears to have no letters etc. At any rate my feeling is that Betsy Alden Mangold who was born 1874 dau of Sarah Caroline Tripp b. 30 May 1838 could very well have had proof from her grandmother who died in 1877. Sarah Caroline could very well have known the origins of the Grammers."
- One family member seemed to think that Dr. Joel was in the Civil War, but that is unlikely since he died in 1861 in Nevada Territory (the Civil War started officially on April 12, 1861). Just in case, I checked the National Archives, which has no record of a Civil War pension for his heirs. Joel is not listed in any of the Jackson or Union County rosters of Civil War soldiers. He is not listed in the National Archives as having either a pension or a military record for the Mexican War.
- The Church of the Brethren (Dunkard) Library in Elgin, Illinois has no church records for Union County, Illinois. They have obituaries starting in 1851, but nothing on Grammers. They have no church records for Kentucky, and only one church record for Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, for that of the Conestoga Congregation. They do have a few family histories (but the researcher said that none appeared to have Grammers as the direct line--I should probably check this in person some day). They suggested contacting the library at Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania 17022 since it serves as the archives for Dunkard congregations located in eastern Pennsylvania.
- Aldridge Family Genealogy (author not on manuscript). Family History Library, US and Canadian Film Area #0967478. Five pages of information on the Grammers (no page numbers), but some of the information on earlier generations seems to be in error because it was based upon the information in DAR records. Later information, from Jacob and Susan (Eaves) Grammer on down, seems to be more accurate.

- Mar. 1, 1977 letter Guy to Gilbert Wright mentions 1862 map with location marked of Grammer ranch: Eagle Valley, the west end of Clear Creek south of Carson City near what soon became the county line between Ormsby and Douglas counties. The two enumerations after Grammer are Emanuel Penrod and S.B. Abernathy, with their ranches being due east of Dr. Joel's farm.
- By 1870, William and Lydia Newton had moved to Carson City, Ormsby County.² Ellen and Joel were still living with them, as well as Lydia's second family of Henry (born 1865), Hattie (born 1868), and Newton (age ?).³
- What about Washoe Valley Graves??? Franktown Cemetery for Grammer graves, per Guy Louis Rocha: "According to Miss Nona Parkin, who has done a cemetery survey of Nevada, only six of approximately three hundred markers are readable, and none of them are Katherine Grammer's. The reason why the cemetery is a secret is, according to Miss Parkin, is that there is a large quantity of gold buried somewhere in it. I do find that hard to believe, but who knows. Franktown as a community no longer exists, The area is now primarily large ranches and estates. A devastating flood destroyed all remnants of the early settlement."
